New Angle Put Into Negotiations for a Meeting of Nations

Hughes Replies to Overture

Agreed Already on Proposal.

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 26.—France, Belgium and Italy have accepted the British invitation for a reparations conference with the understanding that it shall take the form of a committee of experts under the authority of the present inter-Allied reparations commission.

It is understood the British members will be the same as those who served last year on the bankers' committee on which the United States was represented by J. P. Morgan.

It is thought that Berlin will be chosen as the seat of the conference, since the chief function of the committee will be to inquire into Germany's financial assets.

Selection of the French, Belgian and Italian personnel is expected to be completed shortly.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Conditional French acceptance of the proposal that a commission of economic experts be created to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations, reported in Paris dispatches, today injects a new and interesting angle into international negotiations disclosed in the publication last night of correspondence between Secretary Hughes and Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister.

Officials said today that Premier Poincaré's notification of the willingness of France to accept the commission plan, subject to the stipulation that the commissioners be named by the reparations commission.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Although the American government stands ready to enter a European reparations conference having a full attendance of Allied powers, it is not willing to agree beforehand to a meeting at which there might be empty chairs. Thus, in substance, has Secretary Hughes replied to the latest overture from abroad for American intervention to untangle the international snarl over the collection of war indemnity from Germany. For the moment, officials are content not to elaborate on the secretary's pronouncement or to predict what effect it may have on the British effort to at last obtain some semblance of a world wide effort to solve the ills of the European continent.

There were indications today, however, that with the subject reopened (Continued On Page Three)

Thomas At Draper Sees an Attorney

A. S. Thomas, whose presence in Draper, N. C., has been sought in order to clear up a shooting affray in which he was slightly wounded, it is alleged, by Mel Shelton, a few nights ago, arrived there last night. According to word received from Draper this afternoon Thomas was in conference with an attorney, it being further represented that he was interested in securing the release on bail of Mrs. Thomas who has been in jail there with Shelton since the shooting affray.

No hearing was held this morning and it was said that probably none would be had prior to Monday. Mrs. Thomas' bond has been set at $1,000.

DANVILLE MARKET PRICE FOR LEAF IMPROVING

Auction sales in Danville today are larger than on any one day since the local market opened on October 1st, it being estimated that fully $200,000 worth of tobacco was offered this morning. Most of the warehouse was to have the last sale and officials of the Danville Tobacco Association said that only by "doubling up" on this sale would all of the leaf here be disposed of today.

Reports from the warehouses indicated an upward trend in the price of good tobacco with the medium and less fine quality showing no major change.

Statistics for the Danville market for the week ending yesterday were issued this afternoon by the Danville Tobacco Association, these including sales up to and including yesterday evening. Sales for the week totaled 1,501,284 pounds sold for $441,804.85, the average for the week being $22.21 per hundred, the largest weekly average since the market opened. The week previous the

REACTION FROM SUSPENSION

Government Cost Mistake Will Be Corrected at Once

City Auditor in Richmond
Finds Local Theory as to
Per Capita Figures Error
Correct — Commissioners
Order Rectification —
Moss Returning With Statement.

City Auditor H. P. Moss who left for Richmond last night for the purpose of bringing about a correction of the per capita cost of government figures cited by the Commission on Simplification of Government, has accomplished his mission and has succeeded in showing two members of the commission the error which was made. He has also exacted a promise that the commission will rectify the error in the public prints with an explanatory statement which he is bringing home with him this afternoon and which will enable him to show the people of Danville that the per capita cost of Danville is not $23, or even lower than indicated in the rough calculation made yesterday.

A misunderstanding understood to be in the office of the accountant of the figures needed by the commission appears to be responsible for the error. Not only should the expenses incidental to the operation of the public utilities have been deducted from the sum total cost of financing the city last year before computing the per capita but certain other items which therefore bring the per capita cost lower than first anticipated.

Mr. Moss was in touch over long distance telephone with John Garland Pollard, a member of the Simplification Commission, now at Williamsburg, this morning and also with one other member of the commission and after spending the morning in the office of the state accountant in Richmond, the whole matter was satisfactorily cleared up, the misunderstanding over expenses and disbursements being explained and the promise given that the erroneous figures would be corrected.

Mr. Pollard instructed the accountant to draw up a statement which, Mr. Moss said this morning, was in course of preparation but which, he added, he would not like to make public prior to the time he presents it to the finance committee of the council which sent him yesterday on his mission.

The chief point of interest here lay in the fact that the error has been promised and that in the final analysis the Danville city government will be shown to be lower than any other city of size in the Old Dominion.

Last night a telegram was sent to Carter Varnum, secretary of the publicity agent, appointed by Governor Trinkle over whose signature the article giving the costs of city government in Virginia was sent out. Mr. Varnum was asked to give the source of his information and he replied by stating that the figures were furnished him by the finance committee of State Senator Julian Gunn, Dr. Robert H. Tucker, and John Harland Pollard. He stated further that Chairman Gunn had told him that the tabulation of the figures was "most probably" prepared by John Garland Pollard whom he was unable to reach last night.

A telegram was sent to Mr. Pollard this morning at his home in Williamsburg and he promptly replied stating:

"Am not responsible for figures. They were furnished by state accountant, presumably from data furnished by local authorities."

Mr. Pollard's telegram tended to support the theory entertained by city officials that the state accountant who was in possession of a copy of City Auditor Moss' printed report on the state of Danville's finances at the close of the last fiscal year had made only a summary examination of the figures and had not realized the fact that Danville operates its own public utilities of water, gas and electric light and had therefore failed to deduct the expenses incidental to their operation from the sum total of city expenses. Were this done, as pointed out yesterday, the Danville rate instead of appearing as $23.51 per capita would show the lowest rate of any of the larger cities of Virginia or $20.72.

DR. STEINMETZ DIES SUDDENLY

(By The Associated Press.)
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz, electrical wizard, died at his home here today of a physical breakdown due to a trip to the Pacific coast, from which he recently returned.

The attending physician said breakfast was being served to the patient when suddenly his heart seemed to give way and he died immediately.

The trip which Dr. Steinmetz had made to the west started September 1st, and proved much more strenuous than either he or members of his adopted family had planned. As a result he was compelled to take to his bed soon after his return on October 15th.

At the same time physicians announced that a rest was advisable, although it was emphasized that his condition was not serious.

He awoke in a cheerful mood, expecting that the rest would allow him the freedom of the house. But as preparations were being made to serve his breakfast, a sudden heart attack seized him and he died immediately.

It was known before Dr. Steinmetz's trip to the Pacific coast that his heart was weak and his program was so arranged that brief rest periods might be allowed.

Accompanying him were his adopted son, J. L. R. Hayden, general electric engineer, and members of the Hayden family.

The exact cause of death was given by Dr. Steinmetz's physicians as acute dilation of the heart, following a chronic myocarditis of many years standing, which is a weakening of the heart muscles.

Soon after he awoke this morning Dr. Steinmetz told his nurse that he was feeling fine. Last night he spent much time chatting with members of the family about technical matters. This morning after his death, there was found on his desk a scientific book with several passages marked for his grandson to read.

Counter Offensive Is Now Planned By Friends of Walton

Artificial Storm Was Notable Feat
of Dead Electrician

(By The Associated Press.)
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—A recent feat which attracted attention to the work of Dr. Charles Steinmetz, of the electrical wizard who died here early today was the production of an artificial indoor thunderstorm, including a bolt of lightning. The thunderstorm which Dr. Steinmetz both produced and controlled had all the characteristics of its natural brother except the thunder clouds.

At a demonstration of the Steinmetz "lightning generator" in the laboratory of the General Electric Company in March, 1922, the familiar forked tongues flashed through the air with deafening crash, splintered a large block of wood, hurled the fragments 25 feet and ripping a miniature tree from tip to base.

The bolt carried the energy of 1,000,000 horse power, about one-fifth hundredths of the energy of a natural lightning bolt, and lasted for one hundred thousandth part of a second.

"In our lightning generator" Dr. Steinmetz explained, "we get a discharge of 10,000 amperes at over 100,000 volts, lasting for one hundred thousandths part of a second. This gives us the explosive, tearing and shattering effect of real lightning, so that a piece of small tree exposed to the discharge is mechanically torn to pieces. A piece of wire struck by the flash is instantly melted."

The difference between lightning energy and ordinary electric current is similar to that between a pound of dynamite and a pint of gasoline.

"The pint of gasoline contains more energy and can do more work than a pound of dynamite, while the dynamite gives off its energy explosively all at once at an enormous rate of power."

Dr. Steinmetz took a keen personal interest in socialism and in the work abroad of socialistic economists. Last year he was an candidate on the socialist party ticket for the office of state engineer and surveyor and although defeated, ran well ahead of the other candidates on his ticket. During the election campaign the socialist party announced that he had worked out a plan for a gigantic electrical system which would provide heat, light and power for the state.

In April, 1922, Dr. Steinmetz made public a letter to Lenin, chief of the state of Soviet Russia, offering his services for technical advice to that country. In January of this year he accepted a post as member of the advisory committee of the Kuban colony in Siberia.

MANY DANVILLE PEOPLE TO SEE SHENANDOAH

People of Danville who have never seen an arship of the Zepplin type will have an opportunity of glimpsing the "navy dirigible," Shenandoah, today when it arrives in Lynchburg at about two o'clock. Enquiries made in Washington this morning as to the schedule of the great arship which is to fly over the Valley for which she was named on "Navy Day," brought word that the ship probably could sail over Lynchburg at about three o'clock this being based on donations by officials of the Naval Air Service.

It is probable that a good many Danville people will see the ship from their front porches as it flies over the city. The ship will be there in time to see the arship.

The U. S. Navy has a correspondence who is to go to see the ship on the schedule sent the following information bearing on the ship's flight.

The ship will arrive at Shenandoah, Va., at about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will probably arrive later in order to the regulations of officials of the naval air service.

She will not sail on any time schedule but will make the best speed available so as to leave Lakehurst, N. J., early Saturday morning, journeying down the Shenandoah valley from Hagerstown to Lexington and make the way back to the hangar at Lakehurst during the same evening.

While the Shenandoah can make considerably greater speed in emergency she is expected to make the entire journey on Saturday at continued rate of between 40 and 50 miles an hour, dependent more or less upon the wind encountered.

The Shenandoah's schedule is as follows:

Leave the hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, pass over Philadelphia, New York and Lancaster, Pa., Hagerstown, Md., Martinsburg, West Va., Harrisonburg, Staunton, Lexington and Lynchburg, returning so as to reach Richmond just before dusk, then passing over Fredericksburg, Washington, Baltimore and Wilmington, and arriving Lakehurst during the evening.

It is said by navy air service officials that if the Shenandoah encounters favorable wind and visibility conditions tomorrow she may be able to maintain her schedule with a little time to spare in which event her navigators may find it possible to go around by Roanoke after passing Lexington and on the way to Lynchburg, but it is rather doubtful. It will be out of the question, they believe, to extend the journey on to Danville because that would be the last place she would be visible before dark and would bring her back to Lakehurst about midnight. To give Danville a view of the Shenandoah would deprive Lynchburg, Roanoke and Richmond of a look at her.

BAND CONCERT IN NORTH DANVILLE IS APPRECIATED

The fourth of a series of concerts by the First Coast Defense Band of Danville was given last night at the Stonewall Jackson school auditorium to a large and appreciative audience. All the numbers presented drew generous applause. A feature of the program was a solo by A. A. Hall. The Coast Defense band has developed into a splendid organization. Weekly practice under the able leadership of A. A. Hall, band master, has brought it to a point of perfection and critics have no hesitancy in saying that the band is one of the best in the state.

There remains one more concert of the series to be given. This will probably be presented as a part of the Armistice Day program on Saturday, November 11.

GREEK INFANT IS CHRISTENED

An event of more than usual interest and pleasure to the members of Danville's Hellenic colony, now numbering seventy-five adults and twenty odd children, was the christening yesterday afternoon of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Tsolatos with the impressive ceremonies of the Greek Orthodox church. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. John Vasilades, of Norfolk, who was already known to many of his fellow-countrymen in Danville and to a number of others here.

The christening ceremony began at 4 o'clock and occupied about 40 minutes. The service is in the Greek tongue and is accompanied by singing and chanting and with a solemn and beautiful consecration of the child to God. Louis Lambesis stood god-father to the child. The symbolism of the service adds to its impressiveness.

After the christening service, the sixty-odd persons present united in congratulations to the parents and congratulations to the little son christened. Thereafter the occasion was a festive one in the course of which refreshments of a varied and substantial character were partaken of by all. The congenial and convivial group enjoyed the happy celebration until about midnight, with songs and jests and amiable exchanges of compliments.

Since his arrival in the U. S., T. A. Demetris, on Patton street, one of the inmates of Mr. Vasilades' presence in Danville was the conclusion of arrangements to secure the presence of the minister here once a month to hold services, particularly for the children of Greek parentage, but for the adults as well, and on these occasions the Holy Communion will be celebrated. Seventy-five adults signed an agreement to secure the clergyman's coming to this city for these services. The early coming to this city of the President of the Greek-American Progressive society of Atlanta to stimulate the local society is also announced. One of the chief aims of this organization is to impel Americans of Greek birth or parentage to identify themselves thoroughly with American institutions and to become in a truer sense citizens of their adopted country.

AIR CARNIVAL IN NEWPORT NEWS

(By The Associated Press.) NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 25.—The air carnival which is to be held at Langley Field Saturday has aroused great interest on the peninsula to the fact that it promises to be the largest and best show of this kind that has ever been attempted. Not only are all the resources of the Langley Field being utilized but the best talent and equipment of flying squadrons over the country are being secured in order to make this show superior to any shown in the past at Langley Field.

Among the many attractions to be shown will be "sky writing" by Lieutenant Wendell Brookley who has flown from Dayton, Ohio, to put on this demonstration. Persons attending the carnival will have an opportunity to inspect his plane and sky writing apparatus as well as see him in action on this subject. He will also give a demonstration of his ability in aerial acrobacy.

The smoke screen is another feature which ought to prove of special interest to those interested in aviation. This is a recent discovery of the army ordinance and it is believed "will prove" of great value in active operations. An airplane flying at about two hundred feet in the air will release a trail of dense white smoke which will fall like a curtain to the ground. The curtain is so dense that nothing can be seen through it and thus the actions of the friendly troops cannot be seen by the enemy.

HENRY FORD FOR A DRY COOLIDGE

(By The Associated Press.) DETROIT, Oct. 25.—Henry Ford is "for President Coolidge strong" if he makes a sincere to enforce the prohibition law, according to a copyrighted story published by the Detroit Free Press. Mr. Ford said he was sure the intent of the White House could dry up the country if he wanted to, according to the story. "If he does, I'm for him—strong," Mr. Ford is quoted as saying. "The president knows it is the right thing to do."

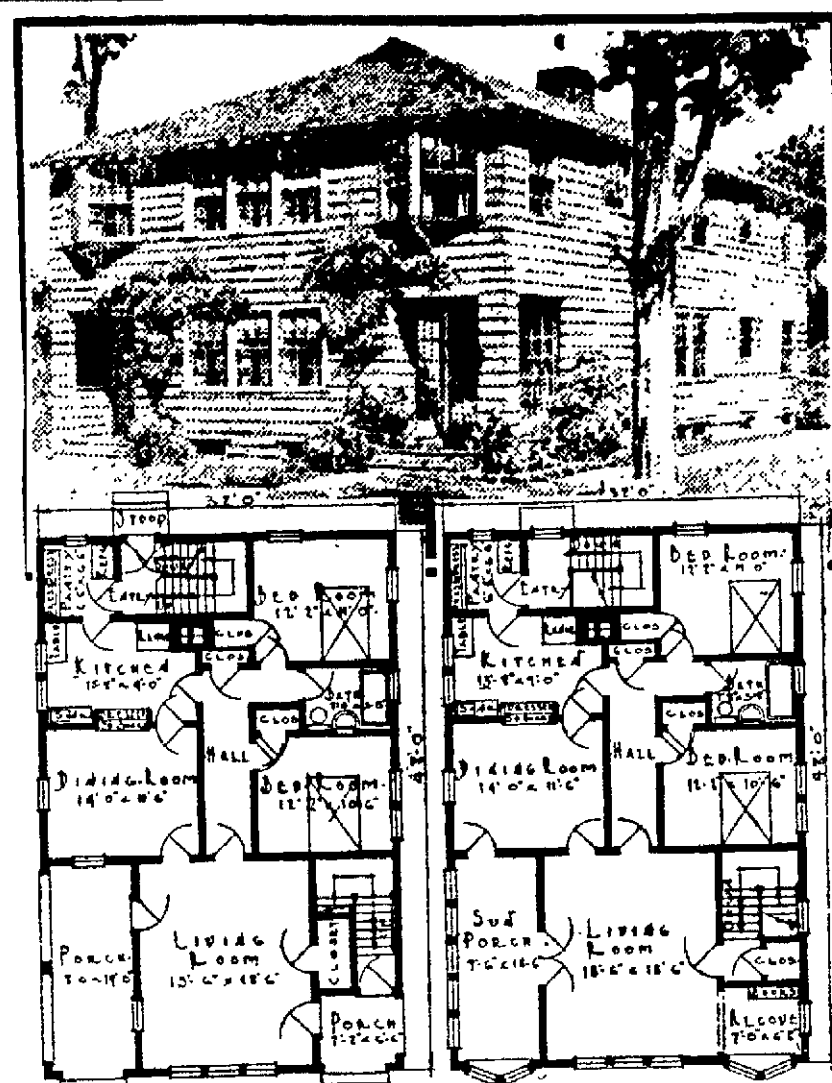

Expressing his own policy in regard to the enforcement of the 18th amendment, Mr. Ford reiterated his statement of a month ago that he "would offer out the army and navy if necessary" to see that the law was enforced.

"Let the drinkers once know," the story quotes Ford as saying, "the government is really determined that the law of the land shall be treated with the respect America must have, even if it has to build a few additional wings to federal prisons, and this country will become dry."

BETTER GRADES IN EVIDENCE

The better grades of tobacco were reported yesterday as selling better on the market than the large quantities of leaf on the Danville market since the season began. The service warehouse floors were well covered with tobacco when the sales began. Estimates on the quantity ranged from seven half a million and 600,000 pounds.

"DUPLEX" HOUSE FOR $11,000

CURTIS SERVICE BUREAU OF CLINTON, IA., DESIGNED THIS SQUARE TYPE DUPLEX.

The Curtis Service Bureau of Clinton, Ia., estimates this home to cost $11,000, including wiring, heating and plumbing. The estimates may differ a little in certain localities.

In the larger towns and cities, where lot values are one of the main considerations in the cost of building, the duplex or two-family house meets a real need. Unlike the flat or apartment, it preserves the "feel" and appearance of home and yet makes possible more than a "home of your own" that could not be built if the whole cost of building and maintenance had to be borne by one family.

Some builders prefer the two-family type—where the houses are side by side, each having rooms on both floors—while others prefer the duplex—where one apartment is above the other—as in the desirable plan featured here.

Rectangular Type. This building is strictly rectangular, even the porches being included in the rectangle and under the plain hip roof. The small porch at the right may be used as an entrance porch for both apartments, and the living room from the living porch at the left, also.

Each suite consists of living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms, pantry and bath, with a linen closet, linen closet and coat closet. The second floor has a sun-porch rather than an open living porch, and an inviting alcove above the small entrance porch, otherwise the room arrangement is identical with the first floor.

Among the built-in conveniences incorporated in the plans are a combination sideboard and kitchen-dressing room, the dining room and kitchen, with sliding doors for passing dishes from one room to the other.

Dressers. There are also dressers in the pantry, a work table in the kitchen, and medicine cabinet in the bathroom. The pantry, which adjoins the rear entrance, affords an excellent location for the refrigerator. The upper house has a built-in bookcase in the alcove, and French doors to the sun porch.

Windows are used singly, or in groups of two or three—even more in the sun-porch; they vary in size and are arranged in attractive bays. But they are symmetrically placed, and add wonderfully to the appearance of the house because of their division into small panes.

Not the least of the good features of the design is the fact that standard sizes in standard sizes, can be used all the way through. This includes woodwork that is stock both in size and design throughout. No homebuilder should overlook the economy of the use of stock materials in planning, yet it is practically impossible to take care of this feature in "home-made" plans.

BREAKING UP OF GERMANY WONT BE ALLOWED; WARNING IS ISSUED TO POINCARÉ

(By The Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 25.—The British prime minister, speaking here tonight before the 5,000 delegates of the Conservative party convention, sounded a warning to the French premier, M. Poincaré, to consider "for himself, for his nation, for us and for the world" twice before he refused the invitation extended by the British government to the allies to accept American participation in a conference for a settlement of the German reparations question.

Declaring that position was grave, he considered it inconceivable that any one could refuse to take advantage of such an opportunity.

At another point in his speech, Premier Baldwin, who has a gentle way of making important pronouncements, declared, with reference to the collection of reparations from Germany that the amount of Germany's payments must be determined in the light of her present and future position and added significantly:

"Nor could we contemplate the breaking off of any part of Germany into separate states, for that would at once break the treaty of Versailles."

The premier brushed aside for the time the sweeping plans for imperial preference, as far as they embrace a policy of protection, by declaring the government still was bound by its pledge that there were no fundamental changes in the fiscal policy. During his address the premier also sought to drive a decisive nail in the coffin of the rumor that he was flirting with the idea of money inflation.

"We have been accused of having no policy. We have definite policy as regards debts, reparations and guarantees, the security of our allies and the fulfillment by Germany of her obligations."

"We know what our policy is. The statement on the continent know it. But higher than the need of securing a common action and carrying that policy into effect."

"We are drifting, but looking for a safe place to land. All Europe is drifting in an airplane, and if they do not find a safe place to land, and find it soon they will all crash."

Dealing with the question of why the government did not follow up its note of August 11 to France, Mr. Baldwin explained that, hardly had the reply note been received when it became obvious that the passive resistance of Germany was breaking down. The government had good reason to believe that on the ground of passive resistance negotiations might be resumed. Inquiries on that subject were made, but while awaiting a reply President Coolidge made his statement in America, offering American participation, if invited by all the allies in an allied conference or to be represented by American experts on a committee of experts under the auspices of the reparations commission.

"When people speak about our want of policy," continued the premier, "I think they mean our failure to effect that common action necessary to bring to successful end the troubles in which Europe today is embroiled. We have had no opportunity in endeavoring to secure that common action. In all statements that have been made, in all documents that have been published, are reported, despite what our opponents say here or elsewhere, the view of a cabinet absolutely and entirely united."

On learning of President Coolidge's statement, a note was sent to the French premier, strongly urging an affirmative reply.

"I had the pleasure of meeting Monsieur Poincaré," the premier went on, "and establishing with him relations which make it not too difficult for me to say what I am going to say now. He represents today the opinion of practically the whole of France, and I beg of him to consider, for himself, for his nation, for us and for the world, once and twice before he refuses this invitation."

CIVIL SERVICE ABUSES MADE BY REPUBLICANS

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Women voters were urged to investigate the "abuses of civil service by the Republicans" by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the Democrat committee in a statement today. She charged that the "Republican administration has resorted outright to the spoils system and is clinging to the service in name only."

Mrs. Blair called attention to remarks of former Postmaster General Work and Postmaster General New on postoffice appointments in which, she declared, "they ignored efficiency ratings in giving jobs to political henchmen."

"I know that no woman," Mrs. Blair said, "will fail to see the injustice in the treatment of A. P. Davis, scientist and expert engineer, 35 years in the government employ, who was ousted as director of the postoffice by Secretary Work in order that his job might go to D. W. Davis of Idaho, a politician and grocer. There are other equally vicious acts."

She referred to C. Bascom Siemo, secretary to President Coolidge, as "secretary of patronage."

MUSCLE SHOALS WILL BECOME A FIXED ISSUE

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Representative Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, who recently visited Muscle Shoals, declared in a statement today that if the present administration did not adopt a policy by action of the Ford proposition, Congress should declare against the policy of private exploitation of the power development and should declare in favor of policy of developing electric power for the benefit of the public.

"As slavery was the concrete issue which plunged the states into civil war," Mr. Thomas' statement said, "in order that the constitution might be construed as to the relation of the individual states to the federal government, so the Muscle Shoals rapidly forming the concrete issue, the solution of which will shape the policy of the federal government in regard to the development of water power throughout the United States. In the event the present administration does not adopt a policy by the Congress should declare against the policy of private exploitation of the power development and should declare in favor of a policy of acquiring, holding, developing and operating valuable water power sites for the use and benefit of the public."

TOBACCO IS RECEIVING GOVERNMENT ATTENTION

The United States department of agriculture has found the growth of the tobacco business sufficiently important to warrant issuing a special bulletin about four times the length of those usually sent to newspapers. Its significance is that it points out the danger of tobacco consumption and shows an increase.

Larger production from each acre of land devoted to this plant is being secured through the studies of the department's agents. Various diseases which affect the growth have been investigated and in some instances, methods of controlling these have been developed. By new means in the science of plant breeding, the quality of leaf and the yield have been improved. Methods of curing have also been changed for the better.

When an investor's service in its weekly notice to clients predicts that the crop will exceed last year's by 200,000,000 pounds, it ought to be fairly plain that the traffic runs into money. As a matter of fact it does, for the government reports 50,000,000,000 of cigarettes, more than annually in the numbers made in 1905. This demand has had an influence on the kind of tobacco raised for the cigarette market and is an important factor in the trade. That the whole question is receiving attention from others than the government and commercial interests is shown in a scientific study of the effects of tobacco in the current issue of the New Republic, purporting to show that cigarette smoking is the least harmful method of using it. All of which may be expected to elicit rejoinders from those who oppose the traffic and would particularly like to see the cigarette eliminated.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY IS UNABLE TO FIX IDENTITY

(By The Associated Press.) KING AND QUEEN C. H. VA., Oct. 25.—The special grand jury called to investigate the lynching here October 12 of Horace Carter, negro, reported late today that it was unable to fix the identity of any members of the mob which took the negro away from the officers and shot him to death. The jury, which had called and examined fifty witnesses while in session four days in an effort to fix responsibility for the killing, was then dismissed.

Carter, at the time of the lynching, was in charge of officers who had arrested him on a charge of having attacked a white woman in this county nearly a year ago.

Important developments might follow. What would be their direction no one cared to predict.

With Great Britain apparently friendly to the conference principle attention now turns to France, whose objections heretofore have made a full participation by all the Allies in such a consultation impossible. What measure of confidence in French co-operation may have actuated Lord Curzon to dispatch his message of inquiry to Washington is not known here and officials seem inclined to await some official expression from Paris before they venture an opinion as to whether the British foreign secretary's venture has succeeded or failed.

If France adheres to the position she has held, it is admitted here that a contributing factor to such a decision may be insistence of Mr. Hughes that the international debt question subsequent from that operation.

From the outset there has been no indication that the Washington government had any intention of cancelling debts owed it, as a result of the war, by France or any other nation.

That Mr. Hughes replied in the negative to Lord Curzon's question on the possibility of American representation on the reparations commission held by officials to be a natural and inescapable result of the policy of the United States ever since it refused to ratify the treaty of Versailles.

That American membership on this commission set up under the treaty was an issue under the treaty ratification fight and even the temporary assignment of an "American observer" to serve unofficially with the commission was assailed in Congress as an unwarranted interference in the affairs of Europe. An effort at the last session to pass a Senate resolution authorizing full representation failed almost in its inception.

Despite their reluctance, officials manifestly are pleased that official notice has been taken of the Secretary Hughes Newhaven suggestion and that British officials have at least seen it a possibility of a final solution.

The position of the state department is that Mr. Hughes' reply to the British foreign minister, made public last night, should be left to speak for itself as a re-definition of the American policy. It is pointed out that the communication covered the whole field of current discussion on the subject by renewing the pledge of the United States to help in any practical way by re-emphasizing the secretary's declaration at Newhaven last December in favor of an "advisory" solution by impartial experts and by setting forth again the government's strong conviction that all the Allies must participate in the reparations conference proposal is to be crowned with success.

EDISON IS SHOCKED.

(By The Associated Press.)
WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 25.—The world has lost one of its greatest mathematicians and the electrical industry will miss one of its shining lights, said Thomas A. Edison today when informed of the death of Charles P. Steinmetz at Schenectady. The famous inventor was shocked at the news.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT EXPRESSES WILLINGNESS

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Oct. 25.—The French government is willing that an international conference of experts to be named by the reparations committee be called to consider the question of reparations in conformity with the treaty of Versailles.

The French government, it was said in official circles this morning, would be most happy if the government of the United States would name an expert to participate in such a conference.

It was announced that Premier

Separatists Still Active in Face of Strong Opposition

Poincaré, in the name of the French government, had already informed Secretary of State Hughes that he would accept an international commission of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay but that they must be named by the reparations commission. The British government it was added, has not yet accepted this condition.

CONFERENCE NEARER IS BRITISH OPINION

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Official British opinion concerning the response of Secretary of State Hughes to Lord Curzon's reparations conference invitation is cautious and reserved. Broadly, however, there is a feeling in the government departments that America's clear out declaration brings an international conference on reparations appreciably nearer.

While the general attitude of the United States on a reparations conference was already well known the British government appears to be much gratified to have the Coolidge administration state it so specifically and clearly on paper.

There is a distinct feeling of satisfaction over the helpful, friendly tone of the renewed offer of co-operation.

HORSE WEDGED IN HOLE; DIES

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 25.—A cavern already known to be of considerable proportions has been discovered several miles west of Middletown, this county, as a result of a horse falling through the earth while dragging a harrow in a field on the farm of R. P. Boyer.

It is planned to make further explorations. There are two or three small caverns scattered over the same locality, and it is thought that all may be easily connected up into one large cave.

Boyer said today he had been cultivating the field for many years and never knew of the cave until his horse fell through the ground yesterday afternoon. The field recently had been plowed for wheat, and Boyer was harrowing the ground with two horses hitched to the harrow. Suddenly one horse disappeared, swallowed up by the earth, and that the other was saved by the harness breaking. As for himself, Boyer was almost dragged into the pit, which seemed to him to be about 35 feet deep.

As the horse fell through the crust of earth, dirt from all sides fell in, making a hole in the ground about 20 feet across. Poles and ropes were secured, and efforts made to rescue the horse, but it could not be gotten out so was shot to death.

Boyer and others descended into the hole by the aid of ropes fastened to poles and they explored the cave for some distance. Tappings they said, seemed to indicate they were standing in ground not too secure, and they lost no time coming to the surface.

It was planned to enlist the services of someone familiar with the work of exploring caves and determine, if possible, the extent of Boyer's discovery.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Frank B. Kellogg, former U. S. senator from Minnesota, has been selected for American ambassador to London. He will succeed George Harvey, who recently resigned and the appointment is expected to become effective in the near future.

Retain With Difficulty Their Hold On Various Places—

Opposition Becoming Sturdier as Secessionists Grow Bolder.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Reports from numerous places in the Rhineland indicate that the separatists are waging their battle for a Rhineland republic with varied success and that local opposition by loyal Germans is becoming sturdier as the secessionists grow bolder.

Desultory fighting now extends from Aix La Chapelle to Soeyer, the Palatinate having suddenly become the scene of republican activities which are liberally being fostered by the French military authorities. This is said to be in the face of native indignation and opposition to a proposal championed by local socialist leaders that the Palatinate be constituted an autonomous state within the republic.

Fighting in the Rhineland, as reported here, has chiefly resolved itself into fistfights and the black jacking of separatists by their German opponents who, not being allowed to carry weapons, are making use of their brawn and muscle.

COTTON OIL CO. HAS A DEFICIT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The American Cotton Oil Company reported a deficit of $5,717,609 for its fiscal year ending August 31, 1923, according to the corporation's annual report made public today.

Referring to the company's policy of curtailing the cotton seed oil end, President George K. Morrow, said the corporation had decided to concentrate on soap and washing powder products. This policy was adopted, he said, because of the unsatisfactory conditions which had prevailed in the cottonseed industry since the war.

Of the deficit established during the past year, $3,907,906 was sustained through the sale of crushing oil refining properties which were being operated at a loss. The operating loss for the year aggregated $3,259,892. In addition the company set up the sum of $2,000,000 against possible losses on property yet to be sold and paid out $760,000 in interest on its bonded indebtedness.

SOCIETY NEWS CLUB ACTIVITIES AND PERSONAL

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Report of Travelers' Aid.
At the first fall meeting of Travelers' Aid Society which was held last week, a report of the year's work was read by the director, Mrs. Minnie Westerfield, showing in so far as cold figures can show, the large amount of work done by this society during the past year.

Perhaps no other society or club in Danville directly assists so many individuals in a personal way, in proportion to the small amount expended. Miss Westerfield and her assistants, Mrs. M. Dew, have rendered efficient service in meeting all incoming and outgoing trains both day and night.

The real heart-interest of much of their work is but little known by any except railroad employees and a few citizens actively interested in the work.

Mrs. Westerfield expressed her appreciation of the loyal cooperation of the transfer men who have rendered most invaluable assistance. Frank Shields, Gunnell Brothers, A. D. Dorcas, and others have never failed to respond when asked to render service without compensation.

Mr. Wood, manager of the restaurant at the Southern depot has helped many times to feed stranded strangers.

Halloween Party.

Epworth Leaguers of Main Street Methodist Church had a jolly Halloween party last night at the church school gymnasium.

Decorations and favors of orange and black, with cats and witches everywhere, and games and contests, all contributed to the spirit of the evening.

Miss Charles Anthony, in costume acting as gypsy fortune-teller, together with the contest "Ghost of the Past," truly seemed to make the witches walk.

The children wore appropriate costumes and greatly enjoyed the fun. Mrs. A. T. Gunn presided at a pretty booth where fruit-punch and wafers were served.

Miss Penn Honored.

Misses Margaret Jordan and Eleanor Guerrant were joint hostesses yesterday afternoon at Stoneyale apartments in honor of Miss Marie Penn.

The guests were Miss Penn, honor guest, Mrs. Pemberton Penn, Mrs. Julian Jordan, Jr., Misses Marian Boatwright, Mary Temple, Katherine Hines, Martha Boyle, Elizabeth Penn, Elsie Matthews, Sue Brown, Ivor O'Connor, Virginia Overby and Bessie Van Wageningen.

Recital Postponed.

The recital by the Musical Faculty of Chatham Episcopal Institute which was to be given Monday, Oct. 29th has been postponed to Monday, Nov. 19th.

In Honor of Mrs. Dodson.

A charming Halloween party was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Archibald M. Alken in honor of Mrs. Curtis Dodson, a recent bride. The drawing rooms and library where the guests played bridge were decorated with halloween decorations.

Following the game a gala course was served, followed by an ice course in which the Halloween idea was carried out in shapes of corn, ows and pumpkins and orange-colored cakes topped with black witches.

On each table silver candlesticks held yellow candles. Score-cards and favors were very attractive.

The guest of honor was presented a beautiful flower bouquet. A candy jar was given for the score prize while the lowest score received the consolation—"Auction Bridge Made Easy."

Those present were: Messdames Curtis Dodson, honor guest, W. E. Jennings, Lee Wilson, Gust W. Miles, Puyar, E. R. James, Wilbur O'Beiling, W. C. Day, R. R. Murray, Misses Mazie Wells Penn, Katherine James Adeline Patterson of New York, Miss Annie James, Fannie Willie, Elizabeth Taylor.

Forbes Denies Charges Made Against Him As Director Of Veterans Bureau

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—From his place of seclusion here, Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans bureau, issued a statement today denying as "utterly and absolutely false" the story of Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia, before the Senate investigating committee, of alleged bribery and corruption in connection with contracts for veterans bureau hospitals.

"I do not feel that I ought to make any statement in advance of the full and complete testimony which I shall give under oath on the witness stand," said Mr. Forbes.

"However, at the insistent urging of my friends and in response to inquiries from the press, I cannot refrain from saying that every charge and every word of testimony, especially that of Elias H. Mortimer, reflecting on my personal and official integrity are utterly and absolutely false and without the slightest foundation."

"The story of the receipt by me of a $5,000 bribe was not only false, but so absurd as to be ridiculous. The only thing I ask of the public is to withhold judgment until my witnesses and I are heard and the full documentary evidence are produced."

"In reply to inquiries as to when I will testify, I do not know as that is entirely within discretion of the committee."

"The committee has decided to hear Mr. Forbes next week, if he desires. Meantime, the former director is resting on the advice of his physicians who have warned against a probable recurrence of a serious heart attack unless he maintains absolute rest for the present."

Letter From Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott to Priscilla Bradford.

MY DEAR PRISCILLA:

You cannot tell how lonely I have been since you left me for New York. It is not good for an old woman like me to be alone and I am delighted to know that when you return you are going to bring whatever part of your goods and chattels you may desire and come over to my house or rather your house—closed. Today I made my will, my dear, and left you all my small possessions.

It is a sad thing, dear Priscilla, to realize after you have borne a child and brought him up as nearly God-cast of his mother in her old age, that it grieves me to the heart to know this, my grief is not nearly as great as my fear—fear for him, for we know that his father or mother, child casts off will be cast off by his child. This of course is more sure in the case of John, because he has taken into his heart and home a nameless child who will surely disown him, if not dishonor him.

I am quite sure you are mistaken, dear Priscilla, about seeing Leslie on the street in New York. I have learned in a roundabout way that her father is very ill and if she has left her home for any place it would be to go to him. I would write to her to go to him. I would say that you thought of her, but I solemnly vowed myself that I would never again write to my son until he had written to me and in some way apologized, if not ask my forgiveness, for the letters he has sent me.

I don't want to shorten your stay at all in New York City, but I shall be very lonely until you return to me.

Your devoted friend, MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

Forbes Divorced By His Wife Who Charges Cruelty

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Washn., Oct. 26.—It was discovered here last night in a search of court files that Mrs. Kate Forbes on October 11 was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the U. S. Veteran Bureau and who has mentioned prominently at a hearing being conducted by the Senate committee at Washington investigating alleged graft with connection of awarding contracts for government hospitals.

The suit was handled here with the utmost secrecy and efforts were made to conceal both the action and the granting of the divorce. No mention of Forbes government or business connections was made in the complaint.

Departing from the usual procedure of stating a principal's full name and initials in a court action, Colonel Forbes was referred to in the suit merely as "Charles Forbes."

That the "Charles Forbes" referred to was in reality Colonel Charles R. Forbes was established last night by deputy Prosecutor Eugene Meacham, who represented the state at the hearing.

"As I recall Mrs. Forbes testimony," Meacham said, she accused Forbes of preferring the company and society of others to that of herself and their ten-year-old daughter, Marcia. She stated that he neglected his home to a greater extent than the traveling

FIRE DESTROYS CHURCH SCHOOL

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Fire tonight practically destroyed the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy, located in the Oakland district, entailing a loss estimated at near a half million dollars.

Eighty children, students at the academy, and 150 nuns hurried from the building in fire drill formation a few minutes after the fire was discovered on the top floor of the 3 story structure. None was injured.

One thrilling rescue was reported by firemen. While the flames, fanned by a biting winter wind lapped fiercely at a section of the building used as a girls' dormitory, a nun, heedless of the warnings of police and firemen rushed into the building and rescued a small girl asleep on the third floor.

The children and sisters escaped prolonged exposure to the wintry weather by hurrying to another building on the academy grounds where they spent the night.

Fire inspectors said tonight they had not determined the cause of the conflagration.

Nothing in a name. First snow in Ohio was in a town named Luckey.

Even though shot in a duel at Tombstone, Ariz., a man will recover.

MORE GLASSES IN UNITED STATES THAN ENGLAND

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Ten times as many persons wear glasses in the United States as in England, population considered. W. T. Holmes Spicer, prominent London eye specialist and fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, told the American College of Surgeons tonight.

Dr. Spicer whose treatment of eyes both during and after the war has made his prominent, explained that the greater use of glasses in the United States was the result of the nervousness characteristic of the American people, the greater use to which they subject their eyes and their anxiety for them.

The German people, he said, are myopic, their nearsightedness being caused by the peculiar style of type which is used by the German people in their printing. The Germans realize this and their later works have been printed in Arabic.

The cinema, Dr. Spicer said, has a negligible effect on the eyes of those who see the pictures, but he said that the strong lights of the studios have a bad effect upon the eyes of the actors.

A. A. Webb-Johnson, also of London, and a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, who spoke tonight, described three types of surgeons—the advanced, the dependable and the pessimistic. Speaking on the subject of "kinks of surgical importance" Mr. Webb-Johnson, who says he is not called a doctor at home, described kinks with which the human body must contend and then issued a warning to the surgeons against kinks which confronted them.

In their profession.
The general body of surgeons, he said must bear in mind that it is their duty to attain a wide conservation.

SPECTACLES FOR SAFE DRIVING

RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 25.—Insisting that good eyesight is necessary for safety in automobile driving, the Virginia State Optical Association in annual convention here today adopted a resolution recommending that a test of vision be required by the State Automobile Departments in issuing permits to drivers.

Many persons are unaware of their own defective eyesight. Dr. C. H. Kaufmann, of Roanoke, asserted in reading a paper preliminary to the introduction of the resolution. He believed the test of vision requirement would eliminate a great number of automobile accidents.
All officers of the association were re-elected at the closing session tonight.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Clifford C. Robinson

ROTATION OF FOOD

It may be interesting to use the term rotation in speaking of bodybuilding foods. Rotation of foods or a systematic change of diet is on the same principle.

Most people know what it means to get in a rut, going over and over again the same thing in the same way. It is not best to do this in the selection of food for your daily needs.

Of course there is a large class of families who are compelled through force of circumstances to adopt a certain regimen in diet. In order to make the family income fill the bill, yet even in families with small incomes, the rotation of food can be successfully carried out and a distinct gain in health will result. Not only will a certain kind of food taste better if sidetracked for a while, but the different protein, fat and starch foods will get a better chance to do their proper work and a surplus of any one class may be avoided.

The average working man of normal weight, for his age and height, requires from 2500 to 3500 calories a day. The term calorie refers only to energy, so you will have to balance your daily needs in choosing your food for the table in proportion to their calorie giving values. Just a few may serve for an example.

In the protein or body-building foods a 100 calorie portion is as follows: Beans, about two tablespoonfuls; roast beef, small slice; eggs, one and one-third; milk, small cup. Fat foods: Bacon, two small slices; olive oil, tablespoonful; butter, large spoonful.

Starch foods: Bread, one large slice; small portion of oatmeal; one medium baked potato.

Sugar foods: Granulated sugar, two tablespoonfuls; molasses, about the same portion.

Mineral foods: One baked apple, one orange, three heads lettuce, one head cabbage.

The housewife can with a little patience and experience choose her daily change in her bill of fare with the greatest good to all members of the family. This change, or rotation, in food made daily or weekly, will prove of great health-giving value.

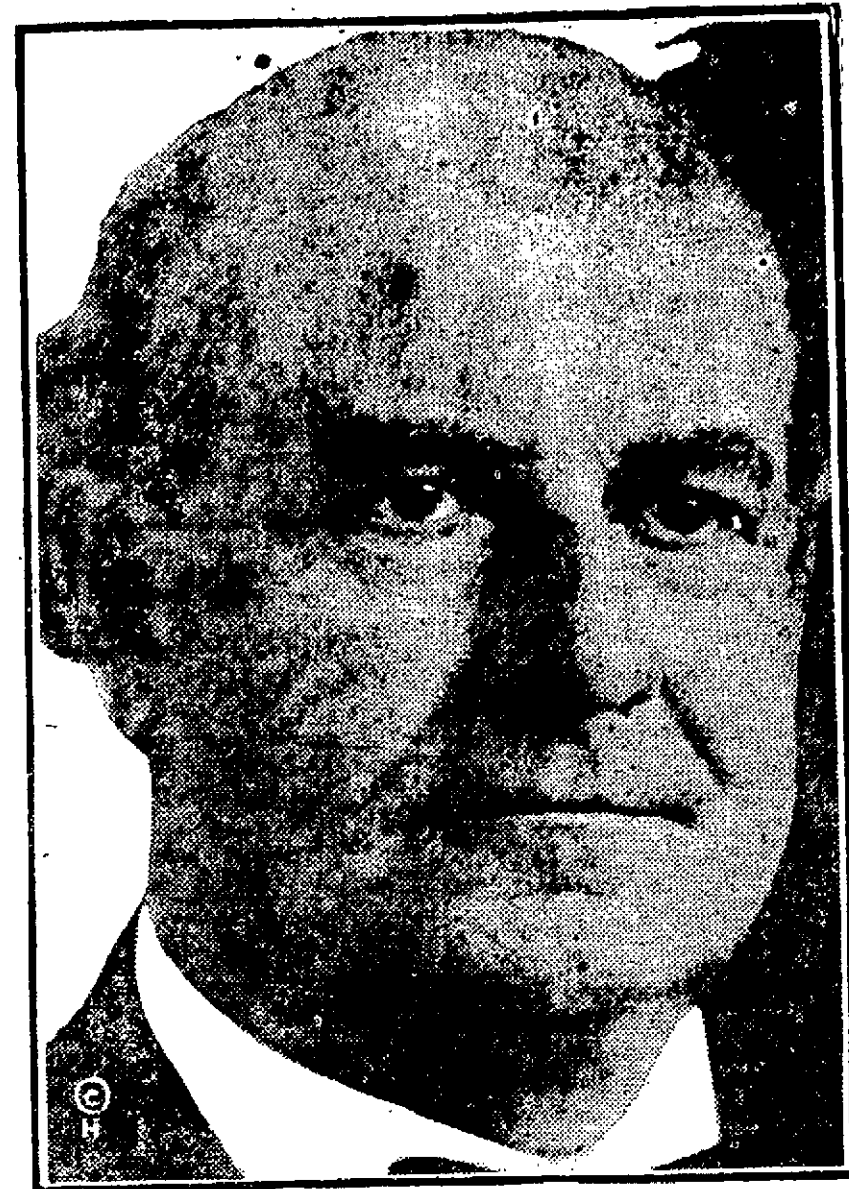

INTOXICATION WILL SAVE N. C. NEGRO FROM DEATH

(By The Associated Press.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 25.—When a man is intoxicated to the extent that he does not know what he is doing, he is not capable of the intent necessary for conviction for burglary in the first degree, the Supreme Court of North Carolina held today in a decision handed down in the case of James Allen, 18 year old negro sentenced to die for alleged entry into the home of a Louisville merchant, with intent to attack the merchant's wife. The negro gets a new trial.

BRYAN TOLLS THE DEATH KNELL FOR BOOTLEGGERS

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

By ROY J. GIBBONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—I have just run with Bryan.

Not politically speaking—But down the main corridor of a local hotel, to finish peripatetically our interview, begun just a little while before over the comfortable remnants of a breakfast of hot cakes and ham in the hostelry dining room.

The thrice aspirant for the country's presidency was in a hurry or something, which left nothing else but a literal running fire of questions and answers toward furthering a mutual desire to solve the country's liquor enforcement problem.

William Jennings optimistically predicted that bootlegging would soon be a thing of the past.

Some Rapier foxy? He passed over Governor Pinchot's recent pillorying of the prohibition machine and its apparent incapability to cope with growing disregard for enforcement of the Volstead act with such lightning dispatch that the mind was left aquiver and doubtful as to whether Bryan was pleased or not with the exhortation.

No grapejuice appeared on the board, but he ate his ham with a great relish and pushed through the steaming plate of hot cakes with a gleam in his eye when referring to the uprising of public sentiment in favor of total temperance.

"Speaking of Governor Pinchot's declaration, in which he aroused public concern by holding up the prohibition enforcement machine as a politically hampered agency, do you consider this as a seeming attempt on the part of the state to shift responsibility to the federal government?" I asked.

"I am glad you used the word 'seeming,' Bryan replied. "Because I would not wish to think it purposeful. It is perfectly proper, however, for a governor to remind the federal government what it can do, which the state cannot do."

"The action of the governor in calling attention to what the federal government can do and the action of the president, calling attention to what the governor can do, should result not only in better law enforcement but in harmonious law enforcement."

AGRICULTURE IS "COMING BACK"

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, Oct. 25.—"Agriculture is coming back," but it will be some time before farm machinery plants will be operating at full capacity in the manufacture of implements, speakers told the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers at the opening session of its annual convention today.

Talk of reducing wheat acreage is all right as far as it goes, J. R. Bartholomew, of Peoria, president of the association, said, but the reduction should be made by farmers who cannot compete with producers of the northwest and the southwest, who can not raise much else. He said the high priced land of the east ought to be turned to other things.

Although predicting a considerable improvement next year, Charles A. Lusk, editor of the Farm Implement News, said it will be 1925 before the farmer is fully back to prosperity.

A shrinkage in demand for farm implements may be expected as long as the farmer can go to work at other occupations and earn more money. Alexander Lege, president of the International Harvester Company, said.

CHILD TO RETURN TO HIS POST IN ROME

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Richard Washburn Child, American ambassador to Italy, whose decision to retire was announced recently by the state department, will return to his post in Rome about the middle of December.

Ambassador and Mrs. Child are the guests of President and Mrs. Coolidge at the White House.

FORSTIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists say that when all other so-called remedies fail Joint-Ease will succeed. It's for joint ailments only—that is why you are advised to use it for sore, painful, inflamed, rheumatic joints. Joint-Ease lubricates the joints—so that they move easily and quickly results are secured—Sixty cents a tube at all druggists everywhere.

Spotlight Is Good

"Do you think this publicity given the liquor traffic may, as some think, encourage law breakers?" the question was asked.

"No! Because publicity is a necessary part of law enforcement. Law breakers can act in secret, but law enforcement must be in public."

"The greatest encouragement given violators of the law is given by public officials who sympathize with breakers of the law as, for instance, the action of the state of New York in withdrawing from law enforcement, and the Pennsylvania Legislature's refusal of appropriations for enforcement work."

There seems to be one thing that is strangely overlooked, and that is the emphasis of importance of total abstinence. Prohibition rests entirely on the theory that intoxicants are harmful.

"All churches, colleges, and all public men ought to be anxious to take themselves out of the suspected classes by announcing their own total abstinence. Unless they do they cannot complain when wets charge prohibitionists drink themselves but don't want anyone else to drink."

A Sincere Man
"A total abstinence sentiment back of prohibition is the only guarantee of permanency. But prohibition will finally triumph over all organized opposition. We still have murder and stealing in spite of laws and statute books. But killing and stealing are individual matters."

"There are no organizations supporting killing and stealing. And no newspapers supporting killing and stealing."

Thus ended our chat, begun with entree and ending in retreat along the carpeted halls.

To me, Bryan seemed a bit worn, and thinner, too. The upward sweep of his chair, which once formed a sort of trough in the rear, looks more tidy since clipped. His voice, however, still retains its kindly ring. And regardless of however, else he strikes one, the impression lingers after talking with him, that he is above all a gentleman, and one with ideals.

He is tolerant to a degree and burns with a great desire to be of help. This I discovered as I ran with him—but not politically speaking.

Vote the Road Bonds

"Go as you pay"

This Little World

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Worse things might have happened to Germany than the disappearing value of her money, in the opinion of Senator Edwin F. Ladd, of North Dakota, just back from Europe. In fact, Ladd is about of the opinion that, fundamentally, the shrinkage of the mark has done more to get Germany's feet set on the straight and narrow economic path than anything could have happened to her.

"Of course, the cheap mark has worked a hardship on capitalists, bankers and many others," Ladd explains. "But the flood of marks has enabled the German farmer to pay off his debts and redeem his land and has put the prime resources of the country back into the hands of the German people instead of land barons and bankers."

President Coolidge is rearranging his schedule of values. Formerly, words were rated as his most precious gift. But ten weeks in the White House has showed him that in the job of president, time is even more precious.

But how to get exercise necessary for his physical needs with the least expenditure in hours and minutes has become a real puzzle.

Advocates of golf have been met by the answer that enough golf to give one an appetite takes from three to four hours.

Horseback riding has been neglected because the time necessary to change into riding tights and back, plus the period necessary for a canter through Rock Creek or Potomac parks, almost equals that for golf.

Direct action exercise, the president finds, gives the best workout in the shortest space of time. As a result, he is depending more and more on his early-morning, before-breakfast walk to keep him toned up physically.

A stiff three-mile hike, at a brisk four-mile-an-hour clip, does the trick fully as well as golf or a horseback ride.

And it saves him two hours for work.

Few flat dwellers have a more hectic time with kindreds and moving days than does Myron T. Herrick, our ambassador to France.

For the third time since he returned to Paris in 1921 Myron has had to pack up and move. And, as all transient residents know, moving isn't all there is to moving. Finding some place to move to is a big part of the problem.

When he leased the residence from which he has just moved, Herrick was told it was the expectation of the Prince de Broglie, the owner, to find a permanent winter home in Algiers. Herrick wanted the place, for the rent of which he had to spend about four-fifths of his salary, and promised to vacate on demand in case the prince should tire of travel and return to Paris.

Well, the prince came back and Myron had to call in the moving men.

This time the embassy is parked, temporarily, in the property of the Princess de la Tour d'Auvergne, where the tapestries are said to be the finest outside the former royal palaces.

COAL MINE WAS TURNED OVER TO FOREIGN CORP.

(By The Associated Press.)
FORT SMITH, ARK., Oct. 25.—Operation of the Bache-Dönnan Mines in the Hartford Valley was turned over to the Mammoth Vein Coal Mining company of West Virginia in 1914 in order to secure federal injunction protection against violence, Frank Bache, of Philadelphia, head of the syndicate, declared today in concluding his testimony at the trial of the $2,222,000 damage suit brought by the Cornudas Coal Company and other operatives against the United Mine Workers of America.

Mr. Bache testified that in 1914 he determined to operate his mines on an open shop basis in an effort to "reduce costs, increase tonnage, extend markets and make some money."

His attorneys advised him, he said, that he could not get federal court protection against violence unless the mine was operated by a foreign corporation. For that reason, he declared, he turned the properties over to the West Virginia concern.

PACKERS APPROVE THE NEW "BUTTER" RULING.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The larger packers here who make butter or its "alternates" or substitutes for sale in interstate commerce are offering strong approval of the ruling by the state attorney general outlining the provisions of the new state laws prohibiting use of the "butter" and "creamery" in the names of the firms making substitutes.

JUDGE LINDSEY GIVES TESTIMONY

(By The Associated Press.)
DENVER, COLO., Oct. 25.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey, widely known juvenile court judge of Denver, appeared before the grand jury today in answer to a subpoena calling him to testify concerning his recent statement that there were one thousand illegal operations performed in Denver annually. What Judge Lindsey told the grand jury was not disclosed but as he entered the court room he declared he "will not violate the confidence of my court."

District Attorney Van Cise said he would institute contempt proceedings against Judge Lindsey if he believed his conduct before the grand jury warranted such action.

CHARTER CHANGES ARE PUT IN WRITTEN FORM

The clerk of the charter revision commission complying with a resolution adopted at the last meeting of that organization has prepared copies of every suggestion thus far made to the commission which is engaged in re-drafting the document. A copy of these suggestions has been forwarded to each of the commissioners for their study. The suggestions are numerous and a perusal of them reveals some which have not been heretofore presented. The names of those persons making the suggestions—either in written or verbal form—is also given for the first time. The verbal suggestions in the summary are those made at the public meetings of the commission which have already been given publicity.

One of the suggestions which has not been hitherto presented for discussion to the commission is made by E. H. Marshall, a member of the commission, in written form. This suggests that the city be required to keep books in the form prescribed by the State Corporation Commission and that annual statements be made of their management and operation as is required by private corporations those to be on file and available to the public.

Seven suggestions are made by City Councilman George P. Goughgan. One of these is for raising the bond issue maximum by the council from $100,000 to $200,000. Another suggests that the council elect all technical officials. Other suggestions provide for clarification of the present voting provisions so that the vote of freeholders, giving Danville the right to annex additional territory, authorizing the council to assess abutting property owners, eliminating the charter restrictions hampering the local authorities in government and administration, and giving Danville a representative in the state legislature.

Suggestions by Pryor G. Gagliand, commissioner of the revenue, relate to tax provisions, clarifying them in verbiage and giving him full authority to assess citizens coming the city. In offering his suggestions, Mr. Gagliand expresses the hope that the charter will not be redrafted in a way which might weaken the single chamber council which he thinks is getting better results for Danville as a community.

The suggestions offered by William B. Smith are virtually those which he amplified orally at the last meeting of the commission at which time he stated the wisdom of centralized government, fewer popular elections and the elimination of class rule as emphasized in the bond election provision which distinguishes between the freeholder and the non-freeholder.

Councilman F. W. Townes has made a number of suggested amendments to the charter. He favors the election of the schoolboard by the people instead of by the council, also that the election of all city executive officers under direct control of the council be by that body. Mr. Townes also suggests radical changes in the method of controlling the police department. Mr. Townes is a member of the police commission and he states that the commission, as a general rule is not in direct touch with the workings of the department. He suggests that the authority vested in the police commission be transferred to the city council. He also uses the elimination of fee collecting by city officers, that all fees collected by them be turned into the treasury and a flat salary for such officers arrived at. Another suggestion he makes is the reposing in the council the right to issue as high as $150,000 within any 12 months for a specific purpose.

Suggestions made by Frank Talbot, believes that the right should be given superintendent of public utilities. He the city to fix prices for the sale of water, gas and electric light outside the corporate limits. He also suggests the appointment of a commission to administer the public utilities. He sees no immediate need of this but declares that it may be advisable in future years.

One of the most interesting suggestions he makes is that the city should have the right under the charter to purchase and operate the street car system if at any time the purchase could be profitably negotiated. He urges a $200,000 limit for bond issues by act of the council also the appointment of a city planning commission.

He said the Mabel H. weathered the storm in great shape and her only loss was an anchor which was carried away while the craft was riding out the blow in the bay. The Mabel H. carries a crew of six men.

Describes How He Killed Brother To Get His Wife

(By The Associated Press)

DOUGLAS, Ga., Oct. 25.—John Alton Rogers, held for the murder of his brother, Love Rogers, has made a new confession to Sheriff Tanner, according to a statement of the sheriff tonight.

Rogers made his confession to Sheriff Tanner last night. He told the sheriff that his brother's wife first proposed to him to run away with her and leave her husband and the children. He told her that this would not do, that they would be caught. They went on with their love affair from day to day and she finally proposed to do away with his brother. They decided on this the night he was killed.

He said he went in and shot his brother three times while he was asleep. He got a quilt and wrapped him in it. He took him by the head and his brother's wife took the body by the feet and together they carried him out of the house. He said he dug the hole, threw the body in, and buried him.

Underwood Back Of Constitution In Dallas Speech

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 25.—Nullification of the constitution of the United States is unthinkable and when you laugh at any portion of the law as embodied in that instrument, you are some day finding its guarantees of your own liberties and of your property laughed at and defied by some one else.

Oscar W. Underwood, United States senator from Alabama and candidate for the Democratic nomination for president told members of the luncheon club here today.

The senator had previously discussed the foreign policies of the United States in an address to a large audience at the state fair of Texas.

Standing on the same rostrum that twelve years ago held Woodrow Wilson, when he launched his presidential nomination candidacy, Underwood at the state fair coliseum, based his own candidacy upon the people of America's duty toward Europe.

The outstanding issue which the people of the United States must decide at the next presidential election he said, is whether America will redeem the pledge made on the battlefields of Europe, through Woodrow Wilson, and "restore peace and stability to the governments of Europe or allow the present debacle to drift into further chaos."

Last night at Wichita Falls Senator Underwood declared liquor smuggling should be stopped by federal revenue cutters if necessary and termed the recent conference of governors with President Coolidge on law enforcement a "buck passing affair."

Today the Alabama senator asserted that at the Versailles peace table America "did not win all we hoped for but our government still stood for the high ideals we championed during the war."

"Then a united country lost itself in partisan politics," he said. "Our government abandoned the high and unselfish position the American people took during the war. We surrendered the leadership in world affairs which our great sacrifices had won for us. We refused longer to sit in council and encourage the peaceful settlement of the difficult problems that confronted Europe. We deserted the field and forever sealed by the blood of our heroes."

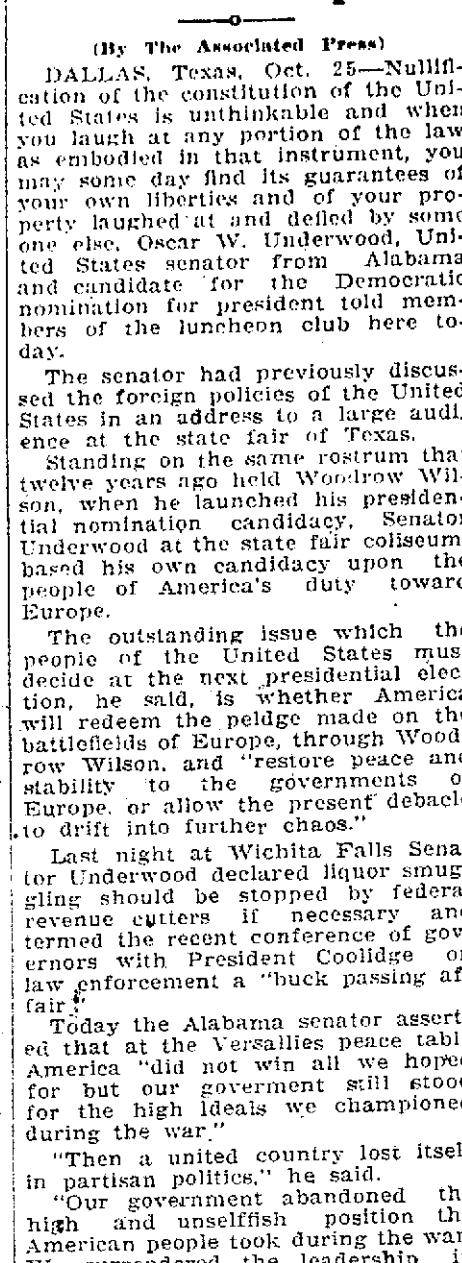

"What has come of it?" Senator Underwood asked.

"Half a decade has rolled by since the armistice and we already tell the story. We have allowed the people of the world, because when the time came we failed to play our part."

"And with what result? Europe still in arms, standing armies greater than they were in 1914, petty wars, racial jealousies, national hatred the order of day, war debts increased, unemployment, sickness and poverty the common lot of many peoples."

"We have a plain duty that lies ahead of us," he concluded. "To return to the principles guiding America in the great war, to have and exercise a definite governmental policy in Europe that will function by peaceful means, aiding the establishment of stable government, re-establishing of stable financial and business conditions and suggesting and aiding in the international understanding that will close the door to war."

Smuts Delivers Another Speech On French Policy

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—General Jan C. Smuts, the South African premier, tonight delivered another speech in which he reinforced his previous plain-spoken sentiment on the alleged effect of the Franco-Belgian policy was having on the situation in Europe. The occasion of the speech was a dinner of the League of Nations Union, given in honor of the visiting overseas premiers.

Alluding to the status of the League of Nations, General Smuts justified its avoidance of big international disputes on the ground that it was a small child and there were a number of herods waiting to destroy it. He advocated waiting until the league had reached adult stature and represented all nations and not merely a majority of them.

"History is moving at a fearful pace," said the premier, "and very soon the league may be the only rallying point for a distracted world; and even its enemies may come to welcome its intervention."

With reference to the dispute between Greece and Italy General Smuts said some very "nasty and unpleasant work" had been done, but fortunately not by the League of Nations.

Depicting what he termed the lamentable conditions in Europe, the South African premier declared that, despite the gloom, he still believed elementary human feelings and sympathies eventually would come into play. A great transformation already had begun.

General Smuts predicted that Fascism, like bolshevism, would fall and pass away and give way to the ideals of the League of Nations.

LARGER SUPPLY OF HOGS CAUSES DROP IN PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—An increased supply of approximately 35 per cent of hogs over the corresponding period of last year is the cause of the decline in hog values. Everett C. Brown, president of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange, said today in answer to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's statement recently that an investigation would be made to determine if the slump in prices was the result of undue reduction.

Secretary Wallace states that during the past month hog values have declined more than $1.50 per hundred weight while the price of corn increased 27 cents a bushel. Mr. Brown said: "Based on such figures compiled by the department of agriculture nearly three million hogs were marketed during that period, indicating a loss to producers by depreciation in value of about $3 a head, based on an average weight of 200 pounds or an aggregate sum between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000."

"In my opinion, based on reliable information, the slump is directly attributable to a false alarm of dollar corn and five cent hogs."

FRANCE IS NOT LIKELY TO TAKE ANOTHER STAND

LONDON, Oct. 25.—For the present British apologetics profess to see little likelihood of M. Poincare receding from his reaffirmed attitude that the reparations committee is competent to deal with the reparations question. If therefore, France opposes General Smuts' proposal for an international conference as now seems probable, British officials see little sense in England calling such a conference on its own initiative. As Secretary Hughes has already made clear that the United States would participate in a reparations conference only at a joint invitation of all the allies.

It is believed here that Italy and Belgium might be induced to sanction a conference convened at Great Britain's instance, but it is recognized by the British authorities that without France a meeting would be useless.

APPLE EXPORTS CONTINUE HEAVY

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 25.—Export of apples have been exceptionally heavy this season, most shipments going to England and Scotland, according to a review issued by the Virginia division of markets, co-operating with the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, for the period of October 16-23. Movement has been stimulated by the short crop over seas and by the high prices, so that foreign markets have proved more profitable than domestic trade for shippers of eastern fruit.

Recently, however, British prices have declined sharply.

Steel Industry Is Barometer Of Business

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Oct. 25.—"The steel industry gives us both a barometer and a thermometer of business," according to Roger W. Babson, whose associates have just completed a survey of this great industry.

"Steel prices," says Mr. Babson in a statement issued today, "tend to follow general business—to act as a thermometer in measuring, roughly, prosperity or depression. During the early months of this year business was active and the price of steel billets advanced 30 per cent from January to April. It was evident by them that the improvement had been overdone and business took to caution and conservatism—a condition still prevalent.

"Iron and steel prices very naturally followed. For the past six months production has dropped and prices have been steadily declining. Despite the readjustment to date, I do not feel that steel prices or production have reached the low point. It should be borne in mind that during the war period our producing capacity was greatly stimulated. The actual output of steel in 1913 was about 31,000,000 tons with a producing capacity of probably 35,000,000. So far this year the steel industry has operated on a basis of more than 40,000,000 tons annually, a rate materially over the actual output of recent years. As a matter of fact the abnormal stimulation in steel output started in August, 1921. In 1922 total output jumped 75 per cent over the previous year, while production during the first nine months of this year stands over 60 per cent above the same period of last year. However, the main point is, if this country were called upon, we could produce steel at between 55,000,000 and 58,000,000 tons annually. Even today at the current rate of 40,000,000 tons, we are producing more steel than we can consume and export. Nor should we lose sight of the fact that our European neighbors are expanding their steel producing capacity to cope with abnormal war needs.

"The underlying situation is well defined by unfilled tonnage—the barometer—which from the low in February, 1922, of 4,141,000 tons climbed with little interruption to 7,403,000 in March of this year. Today, six months later, unfilled tonnage has dropped to approximately 5,000,000. General business as reflected in the Babson chart has dropped to 10 per cent below normal. My main thought is that although no radical departure from the present price level is indicated, a survey of actual conditions shows that the weight is certainly on the bear side, as it is in most lines today.

"On the financial side we find further evidence of this slowing up, in the amount of recent refinancing which has been undertaken by some of the newer companies," continued Mr. Babson. "During periods of record-breaking business, new financing, it is true, may be required by the older conservative manufacturers for justifiable expansion as well as the new ones. It is a characteristic sign of the beginning of a sharp competitive period, however, when many new offerings of funded debt with specially attractive promises appear in connection with corporate names that are new to investment lists. The absence of any new financing on the part of older concerns at such periods, always is noticeable. It is the time when the more experienced management is 'conserving

Smuts Delivers Another Speech On French Policy

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—General Jan C. Smuts, the South African premier, tonight delivered another speech in which he reinforced his previous plain-spoken sentiment on the alleged effect of the Franco-Belgian policy was having on the situation in Europe. The occasion of the speech was a dinner of the League of Nations Union, given in honor of the visiting overseas premiers.

Alluding to the status of the League of Nations, General Smuts justified its avoidance of big international disputes on the ground that it was a small child and there were a number of herods waiting to destroy it. He advocated waiting until the league had reached adult stature and represented all nations and not merely a majority of them.

"History is moving at a fearful pace," said the premier, "and very soon the league may be the only rallying point for a distracted world; and even its enemies may come to welcome its intervention."

With reference to the dispute between Greece and Italy General Smuts said some very "nasty and unpleasant work" had been done, but fortunately not by the League of Nations.

Depicting what he termed the lamentable conditions in Europe, the South African premier declared that, despite the gloom, he still believed elementary human feelings and sympathies eventually would come into play. A great transformation already had begun.

General Smuts predicted that Fascism, like bolshevism, would fall and pass away and give way to the ideals of the League of Nations.

APPLE EXPORTS CONTINUE HEAVY

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 25.—Export of apples have been exceptionally heavy this season, most shipments going to England and Scotland, according to a review issued by the Virginia division of markets, co-operating with the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, for the period of October 16-23. Movement has been stimulated by the short crop over seas and by the high prices, so that foreign markets have proved more profitable than domestic trade for shippers of eastern fruit.

Recently, however, British prices have declined sharply.

THE INCREASE OF COTTON PRICES ADDS TO TROUBLES

BY DONALD R. HANSON.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—The advance of the price of cotton has added to the problems of the textile manufacturers. The feeling here is that higher prices must be obtained for goods. Otherwise mills must operate at a loss or close. So far closings have been confined largely to mills producing cinghams but a number of Fall River plants have curtailed output. These plants have been affected by the special conditions and fine goods mills, in many instances are still on full time. Many of these still account operation on cotton purchased during the summer slump.

LARGER SUPPLY OF HOGS CAUSES DROP IN PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—An increased supply of approximately 35 per cent of hogs over the corresponding period of last year is the cause of the decline in hog values. Everett C. Brown, president of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange, said today in answer to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's statement recently that an investigation would be made to determine if the slump in prices was the result of undue reduction.

Secretary Wallace states that during the past month hog values have declined more than $1.50 per hundred weight while the price of corn increased 27 cents a bushel. Mr. Brown said: "Based on such figures compiled by the department of agriculture nearly three million hogs were marketed during that period, indicating a loss to producers by depreciation in value of about $3 a head, based on an average weight of 200 pounds or an aggregate sum between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000."

"In my opinion, based on reliable information, the slump is directly attributable to a false alarm of dollar corn and five cent hogs."

FRANCE IS NOT LIKELY TO TAKE ANOTHER STAND

LONDON, Oct. 25.—For the present British apologetics profess to see little likelihood of M. Poincare receding from his reaffirmed attitude that the reparations committee is competent to deal with the reparations question. If therefore, France opposes General Smuts' proposal for an international conference as now seems probable, British officials see little sense in England calling such a conference on its own initiative. As Secretary Hughes has already made clear that the United States would participate in a reparations conference only at a joint invitation of all the allies.

It is believed here that Italy and Belgium might be induced to sanction a conference convened at Great Britain's instance, but it is recognized by the British authorities that without France a meeting would be useless.

HEAVY PENALTY DID NOT STOP HER FROM SCOLDING

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Oct. 25.—A fine of $300 and a suspended sentence of six months in prison for being a "common scold" happened today on Mrs. Liske Szekeres of Belvidere, N. J., failed to stop her from scolding, according to neighbors who testified against her at the trial on October 20.

They say she returned to her home this afternoon, looked into a neighboring yard, saw the son of a witness against her and expressed her opinion of the youth in terms far from uncertain.

Mrs. Szekeres, who runs a restaurant, was arrested as a "scold" under a law on the statute books of New Jersey since Colonial days. Mrs. Aznes Bosnick and Mrs. Shandor testified that she circulated false stories about them and chased and abused their children.

When Mrs. Bosnick was about to take the witness stand Mrs. Szekeres spat at her and was warned by the judge. The jury was out twenty minutes. The conviction was the first of its kind in Warren county. The judge could have imposed the additional penalty of a "public ducking."

ONE PARAGRAPH CAUSES TROUBLE

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—An innocent looking paragraph in the lengthy report of the committee on investigation dealing with the scientific side of killing the boll weevil almost brought the National Boll Weevil Menace conference to an end late today.

Its adoption would have taken the farming of a permanent organization out of the hands of the conference and left that body with nothing else to do except to listen to persons who desired to talk on almost any subject they might bring up. Business men who had come long distances in response to invitations to participate in the conference eventually awakened to the fact and the paragraph finally was stricken from the report.

Calcium arsenate applied either as a spray mixture, or in the form of dust, before the blossoms form, was recommended to the conference by the special committee of investigation as the proper weapon to be directed at the cotton pest. The recommendation was embodied in the report of the committee, which suggested there should be one treatment with the person, and possibly two. It declared that when dusting was resorted to there was better control of the weevil after the plants had reached the blossom stage and argued that the dusting be done early in the season.

The Florida method, developed at the Florida experiment station at Gainesville, the committee said, results in good control of hibernated weevils and reduces the attack in the early part of the season, increasing the yield, but this treatment sometimes leaves the field subject to re-infestation, causing a shorter fruitage period. The Florida method involves removal of squares from the cotton plant in conjunction with the dusting.

The general sessions of the conference began today with the election of Mr. Kives, president of the Louisiana Bankers' Association, as permanent chairman and the appointment of J. C. Berry, secretary of the association, as secretary of the conference.

GRAIN.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—New upturns in the price of wheat today resulted chiefly from reports of threatened damage by frost in Argentina and from continued gossip that the United States government would take some action likely to enhance grain values. The market closed unsettled 3-8 to 7-8 cent net higher with December 1.07 to 1.07 1-4 and May 1.11 5-8 to 1.11 3-4. Corn finished 3-8 to 1-4 cents up, oats at 1-8 to 1-8 @ 1-4 cent gain and provisions varied from 5 cents decline to 17 cents advance.

CONFERENCE ON PROHIBITION IN JAN. PROPOSED

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A conference on prohibition enforcement to be held here in January with a slogan of "enforce, or modify," was announced today by W. H. Stayton, founder and executive head of the association against the prohibition amendment.

The meeting has been timed, Mr. Stayton explained, to allow a "trial period" during which the federal and state enforcement agencies will be given a chance to make good in suppressing nationwide violations of the liquor laws. If by then there should be no improvement in present conditions it will be the object of conference to call to the attention of the American people the complete failure of prohibition in the United States.

FIRST ISSUE OF TIMES APPEARS

The first issue of the Philadelphia Times, A. B. Clement, publisher, made its appearance at Chatham yesterday and was the cause of much favorable comment.

The most frequently heard commendation was on the paper's appearance. It is clearly printed, filled with many interesting local stories and items from various sections of the county, as well as stories of more general interest. The first issue carried a normal proportion of advertising.

The paper is a seven column, 22-inch publication, with stories carefully edited and attractively headlined. Its editor and publisher, A. B. Clement, is well known in Danville, Schoolfield and the county. For a number of years he published the Progress, the mill organ at Schoolfield. He is an old newspaper man, having established a record that is well known throughout the state.

STEAMER REPORTED SAFE.
NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 25.—The steamer Mascotte, reported Wednesday as being in a sinking condition off Cape Canaveral, Florida, is not in danger, according to wireless reports received at Coast Guard Headquarters today from the cutter Suakkee and Yamacraw. The Suakkee reported the Mascotte in "a weakened condition" from engine trouble. The Mascotte, bound for Boston and Gloucester, has twenty passengers aboard. She asked for coast guard escort on her trip north.

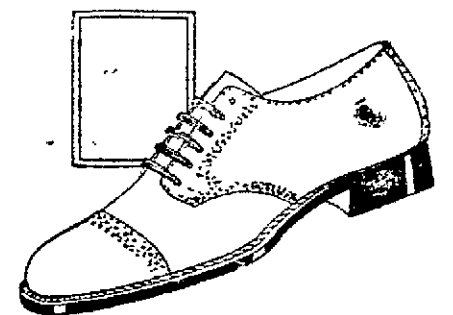

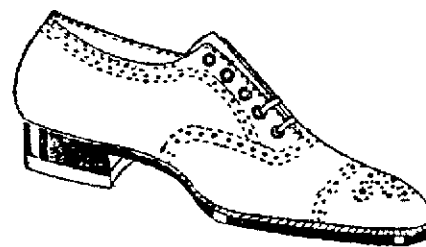

IMMENSE INCREASE IN CALIFORNIA FRUIT CROP

BY L. C. OWEN.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—California's fruit crop will show an enormous volume as immense increases are being reported in most varieties. There will be approximately 22,000,000 boxes of oranges produced as against 20,201,000 boxes last year. The state's 448,000 acres of grapes will yield 70,000 carloads as against 42,000 carloads in 1922. Peaches and pears alone will show a falling off in production. Farm crops also have made big yields. Increase of one-quarter cent to 2 cents a pound on 1923 prunes and apricots will go into effect October 30. These advances announced by the California Prune and Apricot Growers Association, are principally on the large sizes.

CAN YOU BEAT IT! By Maurice Ketten

GRIDIRON NEWS OF BIG TEAMS

By WALTER CAMP
(Copyright, 1923, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A friend writes that he recently overheard a conversation in which a movie fan was extolling the virtues of "The Hunch back of Notre Dame" to a football enthusiast. "Oh," the other replied "I thing Walter Camp is always making too much of some of these minor Western teams."

Another friend writes that in early season conversation with the coach of a big Eastern team, he had quoted the writer as believing that Notre Dame would "cut a wide swath this year" to which the coach replied: "Oh, there's nothing to it. Wait till they get up against one of the good teams."

Both these stories illustrate a fact known to readers of this column, namely that the writer for three or four years has been preaching the excellent precision of Notre Dame's play and the initiative developed by Coach Rockne in the individual members of his squad. When Notre Dame defeated West Point 28 to 0 a couple of seasons ago, the writer described these methods in detail.

Now, thanks to the Eastern trip of Rockne's pupils this year, and the fact that they have trounced two of the "good teams," the writer is finding plenty of support for his contention that the Rockne system turns out real football teams. It is a good lesson for the East to have learned.

The big New York game Saturday will be Penn State vs. West Virginia. Both are powerful and confident. West Virginia will try to stop Bezddek's star, Wilson, who played such havoc with Navy and Penn State, on the other hand, will have her hands full checking the husky mountaineer line. It should be a struggle worth watching.

Out on the Pacific Coast, California seems to be coming along well and in Witter has disclosed a worth successor to Morrison as a runner and to Nisbit as a punter. Princeton has a big asset in the kicking of Von Gerbig as has the Army in Wood.

By LAWRENCE PERRY
(Copyright, 1923, by The Bee)
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Appropos of the game between the University of Michigan and the Quantico Marines two weeks hence it is interesting to note that the sea soldiers are very ambitious. Within a year or two, if reports of recruiting reports, the writer heard in the West are true, the Marines will probably be ranking up with the two service institutions noted for their high western official college graduates who have shone as famous players in their undergraduate days are likely to have as little trouble securing commissions in the Marine Corps as graduates of football stars have in getting appointments to West Point. This does not mean that the Marines will take any athlete. He must have a degree from a college or a university and, of course, must satisfy the authorities as to character and the like.

Even so, since the Marines are a desirable corps with a definite tradition and high standards of service the chances are that Annapolis and West Point are shortly to encounter a most formidable service rival.

Princeton's game against the Navy on Saturday will show whether or not the tigers have profited by the experience of the Notre Dame game. Certainly both players and coaches must have learned something that will accrue to their advantage. As a result of the 25 to 0 beating administered to Nassau by West Virginia in 1919, the Princeton system acquired a reputation for the productive three years that followed. The Tigers are an acquisitive bunch and history may repeat itself.

From what the writer has heard from Princeton Saturday's defeat was taken in the proper spirit. The game was arranged chiefly because the coaches wanted their men to have the experience of playing against Knut Rockne's wonderful outfit and all the chances that the South Bend eleven will appear in Tigertown again next year.

Everyone out West who has seen John Levi, of the Haskell Indians in action say he is the greatest back in every respect they have ever seen. When under way in the open field he is practically unstoppable and in throwing the ball, punting, crashing the line, he is hailed as in a class by himself. At the close of the hard Minnesota-Haskell game Levi modestly remarked that he thought he would have done better had he really got warmed up.

Milstead, the Yale tackle, who hailed originally from Wabash, came to Yale via Syracuse. When he turned up at the Salt City institution from the West, he said he wanted nothing but the most difficult courses, that he was there to study. The trouble was, according to Chuck Meehan, that he began to tell the professors just where they erred in their manner of teaching. One readily can imagine what happened to this young blond giant at examination time.

One afternoon Milstead came out on the Syracuse field—this was two years ago—and told Chuck Meehan he would like to get a little practice on the scrubs. Meehan let him go in and then had the pleasure of watching him tear holes in the varsity line and then lead interference that resulted in three touchdowns. Then Meehan gave the varsity the ball and told the backs to tear into Milstead. He threw them back for half an hour, but eventually succumbed to the pounding. "The greatest tackle I ever saw," says Meehan. "Stan Keck, who Kerck wasn't in Milstead's class."

Consider King College located in Bristol which is half in Virginia and half in Tennessee has an enrollment of 98 students. Last year with 92 students King ran up a total of 493 points in its eight games, establishing the seasons high score record. Teams met in compiling this mighty total were V. P. I. Tusculum, Milligan, Maryville, Rohnoke, East Tennessee Normal, Cumberland University and Lenoir. Lenoir with 750 students was showed under 206 to 0. And Tusculum 90 to 3. Before the tornado cut going two opening games were lost to V. P. I. and Rohnoke. Thus far this season King has beaten on Blount College 68 to 0; Tennessee Poly 75-0, and Elgin 55-0. In all 193 points in three games played. This Bristol cyclone will be worth watching this season.

D. M. I. WILL PLAY RIEDSVILLE H I HERE SATURDAY

Not discouraged by the bad breaks of their last Saturday's game, the Tiger squad has worked well in anticipation of the coming clash with Riedsville. Though wet grounds and bad weather made practice difficult, sufficient speed of workouts has been to put the string in good condition. Slight revision of certain plays has been made and others added to the repertoire.

The men have recovered from the bruises of the recent game and are in better condition than at any prior time in the season. Hooper, who was critically off in last Saturday's contest, is again in good shape. The line has developed considerably more driving power and the backfield is moving with greater accuracy. While no prediction is made as to possible scores, the team is in shape to put up a sharp scrap when the whistle blows on the campus at three thirty Saturday afternoon.

Many Thrilling Games Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Tomorrow, with mid-season well underway, the football drama will begin to shape itself for the climax. Many thrilling battles are scheduled.

No game promises to be harder fought than that between Penn State and West Virginia at the Yankee Stadium in New York and when Yale meets a worthy opponent in Brown the result will not be a great surprise to many who watch it.

The Navy and Princeton will walk the grids in Baltimore. The Tigers received a serious jolt yesterday when Frank Tutun was injured so severely in a scrimmage that he will be unable to play. Charles Caldwell, star center, also will be out of play.

Harvard and Dartmouth will come together in their yearly contest and the Crimson, it is said, by observers, will have to move faster than heretofore this season, for no team can rest through a game with Dartmouth. The Harvard varsity has been working up its defense system all week and probably will need it.

Of these four headlines—the Penn State-West Virginia battle is receiving the greatest attention. Both are unusually strong. West Virginia has beaten Pittsburgh and Penn State has overpowered the Navy. Both teams have high-powered attacks and the sparks should fly.

Little World Series Success

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Oct. 25.—The "Little World Series," which wound up yesterday with the Kansas City club of the American Association winning the minor league title from the Baltimore club of the International League, was the most successful of any since the games were inaugurated four years ago.

Although the teams ran into bad weather in both cities the attendance and receipts topped all previous records.

The total attendance at the nine games was 84,705 and the total net receipts were $106,619.83. The players will divide between $53,000 and $60,000.

FIRPO RECEIVES GREAT WELCOME IN PERU

(By The Associated Press)
CALLAO, Peru, Oct. 25.—Luis Angel Firpo, arriving from Colon yesterday, was greeted by a demonstration such as is seldom accorded distinguished visitors to Peru. Cheering throngs lined the docks and the main thoroughfare as the boxer left the steamer.

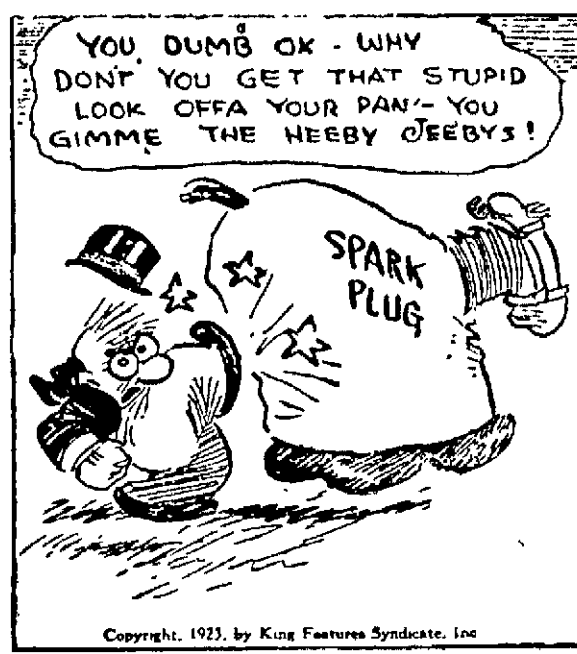

Firpo was enthusiastically welcomed and greeted by numerous government officials and by members of the Argentine legation. He proceeded to Lima where numerous affairs have been planned in his honor.

No Decision Is Made On Status Of Mrs. Mallory

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Tennis enthusiasts were relieved today to learn that no definite decision had been reached on the status of Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, who yesterday was reported to be ineligible to compete for America in the Olympics next year.

While apparently barred because she competed for her native country, Norway, in the Olympics of 1912, members of the Olympic committee said last night that the regulations might be construed so as to permit her to represent America at Paris in 1924. Her case has been carried over for decision to the International Olympic Federation.

FIFTH EXERCISE
DEVELOPING STOMACH MUSCLES

LUVADIS SHOWING HOW MUSCLES IN STOMACH AND BACK CAN BE DEVELOPED.

This is rather difficult exercise at first, but with a little practice will soon be easy to accomplish. Lie flat on the floor with the body and legs straight, and the arms stretched out straight back. Then, without lifting the legs from the floor, rise to a sitting position on the count of one, the hands being held straight above the head.

At the count of two bring the hands and body slowly forward until the tips of the fingers touch the toes. At the count of three, return to the starting position. Repeat 12 times. This will develop and harden the stomach muscles and strengthen the back.

KANSAS BLUES BEAT ORIOLES

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 25.—The Kansas City Blues are sitting atop the minor league baseball world tonight. They clubbed their way to victory of the champion Baltimore Internationals in the ninth and deciding game of the Little World Series at Oriole Park this afternoon. The score was 5 to 2. Two home runs, one by Skiff in the third inning with Branom on second and another by Eriof in the ninth inning with Eracker on first won the minor league championship for the American Association pennant winners.

"Lefty" Schupp hurling for the Blues mystified the Birds with a sweeping curve that stopped all of Baltimore's left hand hitters. "Lefty" Groves was Baltimore's choice to start the game but was yanked in the first inning after he had walked three men and allowed a single. He forced in the first man with a pass and Manager Dunn of the Orioles rushed in Parnham.

The big right hander was effective in all except the fourth and ninth innings, the clouds out of the park settled his fate. Walsh, Masef Lawrey and Sherry made the hits that figured in Baltimore's runs. The attendance today was 3,103, net receipts $4,158.30.

ROANOKE AND HAMPDEN - SIDNEY WILL CLASH SAT.

ROANOKE COLLEGE, SALEM, Va., Oct. 25.—The Roanoke Maroons are being joined with greatest enthusiasm by "Pinkie" Spruhan for the annual clash with Hampden-Sidney Saturday. There have been no serious injuries in recent games and the outlook is that Roanoke will be able to throw her full strength against the Tigers. The line-up will, in all probability, be the same that so decisively defeated Randolph-Macon on College Field last Saturday.

Interest both in town and on the campus has reached fever heat over the Maroon-Tiger battle. A special train will leave Salem Saturday morning bearing several hundred of Roanoke's most loyal supporters. Additional interest has been created by the suspension of the old rivalry between "Pinkie" Spruhan and "Tank" Bernier, two of Virginia's greatest coaches. The rivalry between the two mentors started in 1914 when Spruhan was in his direction of the Maroons and Bernier took up his duties with the Tigers. When Bernier went to V. P. I., Spruhan moved on to V. M. I. Now, each of the coaches is back at his old haunt with an increased determination to conquer the other.

The battle between the Maroons and the Tigers has always been a thriller, hard and close contested. Last year, Roanoke came through the winner with a 1-0 score. Again this season, Roanoke has the more impressive record but the Tigers are strengthened by the return of the mighty Ben Smith and are playing at home in the Valley. Both men a lot and the Tiger has claws sharpened for revenge.

HORNSBY WILL BE TRADED TO CHICAGO CUBS

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Nationals, 1923 batting champion of the National League, will be traded to the Chicago Cubs in a deal involving the transfer of four players to the Cardinals, according to reports in baseball circles tonight.

The report said that Hornsby, who engaged in a fist fight with anchorman Rube Foster of the Cardinals last season, had expressed a desire to play with Chicago. The players reported to be considered in the trade for Hornsby are Charley Hollocher, George Crainshaw, Lawrence Miller and Virgil Cheever.

President Vreeland of the Cubs could not be reached to confirm the report.

One Regular Will Be Out of Line-Up

LEXINGTON, Va., Oct. 25.—One regular, and possibly two, will be absent from V. M. I.'s line-up when the Flying Squadron meets the Wolfpack from N. C. State on Alumni Field Saturday. Gene Ferguson, the dependable Cadet center, has not fully recovered from injuries received in the Virginia game, and the coaches plan to use Hobby Wilson in his place. Naturally the Cadets will feel the loss of Ferguson, one of the mainstays in the line, but it is believed that Wilson will hold down the responsible pivot position in good style.

Smiley Denton, right tackle, is the other regular still on the hospital list, but there is still a possibility of his being able to play Saturday. In case Denton remains on the sidelines, his place will be filled by Bo Clements, an able understudy who distinguished himself in the Georgia-Tech game when Denton was also crippled.

In other respects the V. M. I. squad is in good shape. Both the Varsity and Freshmen have been going at top speed during the week, as the Varsity hopes to repeat last year's victory over N. C. State, and the Freshmen are getting ready for the strong A. M. A. team. No game was scheduled for the "rates" last week in order that they might see the Virginia game. After watching the Varsity run wild against the Orange and Blue the first year men are anxious to prove that they have a drive of their own.

DANVILLE HIGH TO PLAY HENRY COUNTY ELEVEN

Much interest is being manifested among football fans in Danville over the game here Saturday between Danville High and Martinsville High. The latter team has developed wonderfully in the last ten days. Last Saturday Reidsville was taken into camp by the Henry County lads, and it must be remembered that the North Carolinians defeated Danville early this fall.

Coaches Heub and Wilson stated yesterday that the regular line-up, with one exception, would start the game tomorrow. They also said that the local team had about reached the peak of development and would put up a strong game.

Martinsville is coming to Danville prepared and most anxious to annex the scalp of the High school. Danville High has won practically all of the games from the neighboring county team in the past. The visitors want to change the record.

YALE INSTITUTE WAS BOMBARDED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The town of Chang-sha, China, where Yale Institute is located was bombed October 23 during hostilities between Chinese factions, according to a message received today at the state department from Minister Schurman at Peking. The Chinese authorities have been informed that the American gunboat in the river at Chang-sha would return the fire on any guns brought to bear upon American property or nationals.

The report of bombardment reached Minister Schurman from the American naval commander on the Yangtze river. The minister promptly informed the Peking authorities of the situation which he regarded as serious in view of the considerable number of Americans in the town and demanded that they be accorded full protection.

The Chinese foreign minister promptly acted to telegraph the commanding general at Chang-sha and endeavor to get them into agreement for the protection of a neutral zone that would cover American property and nationals.

Isn't it a wonder gossips don't bite their tongues?

LAST BASEBALL GAME OF SEASON IN S. S. LEAGUE

The last and deciding game of baseball between Sunday School League teams will be played this afternoon at Stonewall Jackson Park, between Shelton Memorial and the First Baptist teams. These two outfits played a good brand of baseball during the season and for the most part outclassed their opponents.

The league schedule ended with both teams tied each having won eight and lost one.

Mickey Walker will be on the firing line for Shelton, while Skaggs, another speed artist will do the hurling for First Baptists.

Each team will have their regular line-up in the field and both seem confident of winning the pennant.

"Lefty" Wilson will do the umpiring with the game starting at 3.30 o'clock.

SECOND TEAM OF D. M. I. WILL MEET CHATHAM TODAY

The D. M. I. Second team will meet the Chatham High first team this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Institute grounds. The second team is considered almost as strong as the first eleven, and is expected to put up a strong fight against the invaders.

NICE SERVICE IS PLANNED ON LONDON-PARIS AIR ROUTE

(By The Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 25.—Plans have been completed for the inauguration of night flying service between London and Paris for carrying passengers and mail. The scheme is the latest addition to the popular Paris-London service and like all the English services will be subsidized by the government.

This improvement was urged by the Post office officials as necessary if the air mail idea is to be developed adequately. Some months ago the air ministry carried out night-flying tests with much success and on the London-Paris airway there is at present a lighting arrangement on a fairly extensive scale.

Each of the new night flying machines will carry two magnesium flares on the wing tips, which can be lighted at will, in addition to another flare which can be dropped, if necessary, for lighting up the landing ground and ascertaining the direction of the wind if other facilities are insufficient.

Will not place ships in Cuban trade now.

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Shipping Board has reconsidered its decision to place 100 ships of the fleet in the Cuban trade to transport sugar to the United States this year. The cost of placing the ships in commission and the short time available for preparation, the board announced, made it impossible to carry out the plan. A study will be made, however, with a view to entering the trade at some future date.

Deft Pickpockets Taught Trade By Masters In Art

(By The Associated Press.) VIENNA, Oct. 25.—The mental and physical make-up of that worldwide class of minor criminals, the pickpocket, has been set forth with convincing accuracy by the man in Europe doubtless best qualified to do so, Dr. E. Lewisch, for 18 years chief of the pickpocket section of the Vienna police.

The chief was addressing the delegates to the international police congress, the pickpocket, he said, was essentially a nomad, a rover. He finds his prey on the street, in places of amusement, when an accident draws people together, in the cloakroom of a theater, in short, wherever there is a crowd. He may operate in Vienna today, and tomorrow be loitering about a city a hundred miles away. He must be ready to keep moving and give up any idea of a settled home. In Europe he must be a good linguist.

It is reasonably certain, Dr. Lewisch said, that these men are systematically trained in their work, and he believed the best schools are in Poland and Hungary. Bounce strength and manual dexterity the pickpocket must have presence of mind, knowledge of men, and a ready adaptability to cope with unexpected and dangerous situations. Unbowed, off-frontery, self-confidence, and a ready eloquence are important assets, and often help him to calm the agitation of his victim, avert suspicion, and even win the confidence and gratitude of the man he is robbing.

The successful pickpocket needs well-formed hands, strong and with long, narrow fingers. He must be able to seize a heavy purse with two fingers as with a pair of pliers, and extract it from the pocket by a quick and sure movement, or twist a watch ring out of its bearings with as easy a grace as if picking a flower from its stem.

In court the pickpocket denies passionately every charge brought against him. He admits absolutely nothing. He has a ready excuse to account for his presence in the city where he was caught. The stolen watch he will swear he picked up from the ground, and as an honest finder he was about to carry it to the police station. Before the judge he will simulate deafness or ignorance of the language of the court. He will fight for time by asking questions on his own account, or pretend sickness or even insanity.

It takes time to build a good case against a pickpocket, Dr. Lewisch declared. He must be held while his record is taken by a strict watchman, often in other countries, is being looked up. He must be fingerprinted and photographed, and these evidences distributed to the police authorities all over Europe. And while he is being held, Dr. Lewisch concluded, give him a long sentence, preferably in the penitentiary.

Pres. Could Dry Up U. S. If He Wanted To, Ford Declares

(By The Associated Press.) DETROIT, Oct. 25.—Henry Ford favors President Coolidge but he is more strongly in favor of a strict enforcement of the Volstead act, he made it known yesterday, in a statement the automobile manufacturer asserted he believed the president could dry up the country if he wanted to.

"If he does, I'm for him strong," Mr. Ford declared. "The president knows it is the right thing to do. He also knows the women of the nation are going to have a lot to say if he doesn't believe that not one woman in five thousand wished to see anti-prohibition days back. He also expressed the opinion that enforcement was not as slack last month as it is now, and gave President Coolidge credit for bringing about the change."

Reiterating his previous statement, Mr. Ford said that if he were in charge of enforcing the dry laws, he would not give the Army and Navy if necessary to see that the law is enforced.

"Anyone who is afraid to enforce the amendment is a political coward," Ford asserted. "I don't drink but I am prohibition because I know its definite benefits."

Suzanne Caubet, in "The Monster."

"THE MONSTER."

Great Mystery Play Will Be Presented at the Majestic November 1st.

The most astounding of all the great mystery plays that have thrilled and tickled large audiences in the big cities where indefinite runs are possible, is coming to the Majestic Theatre November 1st.

It is "The Monster," which was written for the spoken stage by Crane Wilbur and produced by Joseph M. Gates, who is sending it out on its first general road tour this season because of the long engagements played in New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia last season.

This city will get the complete original production and cast head by Crane Wilbur who enacts the leading male role in his own play in this case, as he did in New York and other large cities last season. The beautiful young heroine Julie will again be played in this company by Suzanne Caubet. Miss Caubet is a niece of the late Mme. Sarah Bernhardt who personally trained her for her stage career and with whom Miss Caubet appeared on the stage here and abroad in Europe. Her beauty and intelligence in acting have won much praise for her, especially among her Aunt Sarah's host of old American friends.

Also in the cast are Frank Darton, Brandon Peters and Frederick Smith. It is well for theatregoers to know that "The Monster" promises them an abundance of fun and laughter which comes out of its tense dramatic situations with frequent bursts of insanity and with the greater joy of surprises.

Prices 50c to $2.50. Seat sale opens Monday.

AT MAJESTIC TONIGHT.

"Lasses" White's All Star Minstrels Will Show to Full House Here.

The "Lasses" White All Star Minstrels, now in its fourth season, and headed by "Lasses" White, the popular pair of black face artists, comes to the Majestic Theatre tonight.

"Lasses" will be pleasantly remembered as the featured comedian with various leading black face organizations, such as the "Honey Roy" Evans Minstrels. On the passing of "Honey Roy," "Lasses" was selected to fill the void in the minstrel world made vacant by the departure of the famous Evans and to say that "Lasses" has made good is stating it mildly, for he has built up a following in the last few years that has never been equalled by any other black face artist.

What "Lasses" has accomplished would lead many to believe he is a man of mature years but such is not the case for "Lasses" only recently celebrated his thirty-third birthday and contends that he is just starting his life's work. He has made legions of friends wherever he has appeared by his affability and his personal charm. His visits to the various cities invariably takes on the air of an old home week and he is beloved by his admirers. The attraction is entirely new this season for "Lasses" and Company have spared no expense to make "Lasses" White Minstrels the last word in minstrel offering. There will be noon day street parade and band concert at seven-thirty.

Prices 50c to $2.00. Reserve seats now.

(By The Associated Press.) KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Condemnation of the growing habit of cigarette smoking among girls and women and urging that proper steps be taken to prohibit sale of obscene and objectionable literature to high school students were incorporated in resolutions adopted by the Tennessee Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Association adjourning here today.

A life saving and cultural program adopted by the congress opposes any change in the Volstead Act which would readmit wine or beer or otherwise weaken enforcement. The congress urged that corporal punishment be discouraged, and further protests the practice of changing the classes to suit commercial ends by motion picture producers.

Uncle Sam is offering remarkable ones, twenty-four battleships at greatly reduced prices and sold on the installment plan. He stipulates that they can be used for scrapping but not for fighting. But some things are not cheap at any price. A savings account in the COMMERCIAL BANK, earning interest and ready when the opportunity for a real bargain arises, is a far better investment than the many careless purchases some of us make.
